

William Wilson (Annotated)

“William Wilson” is a short story by Edgar Allan Poe (1809-1849). First published in 1839, the tale is centered around the theme of the doppelgänger, a paranormal double of the main character. “You have conquered, and I yield. Yet, henceforward art thou also dead—dead to the World, to Heaven and to Hope!” This edition also contains a long note on Poe’s life and work written by French poet Charles Baudelaire (1821-1867) in 1852. The essay was translated in English by Henry Curwen (1845-1892) in 1873.
