

The Deaf House

From the bizarre and silent confines of the Deaf House, a man entices six widely disparate people to him. Each has been given the message: You have one week to live. During their intermittent bouts of deafness, each is subjected to grotesque and surreal punishments as the days pass. Only one person attempts to get close to him. A woman, Rachel, sees the deaf man as the only one who can save them and as the deadline approaches, they find themselves facing imminent and horrific death from the deaf man. But Rachel has to make the final repulsive sacrifice when she realises what is keeping the deaf man alive and knows that in killing him, her own life will be terribly ended. A psychological horror story that will grip and make your skin crawl.
